Summary

Project:	Prepare a discussion document on diversion from intended use.  Objective: Clearly organise the concepts of diversion from intended use into a discussion document to serve as future reference.
Consensus:	Progress has been made on the document, as Mexico included their comments on the initial draft. The discussion centred on what format should be used and the type of audience to be targeted.
	A survey was done through the IPPC. The results may provide further information for inclusion in the NAPPO document. Depending on the expected audience, the Mexico comments will then be included.
	Some discussion was held on the term “rational relationships” used by the WTO when discussing level of risk in comparison with strength of measures in disputes. A technical justification is broader.
